HEARTBREAK HIT FROM TOM'S BOYS

● Tom Petty and the Heartbreakers hit town later this month as back-up to Nils Lofgren.

OKAY, so the "Tom Petty and the Heartbreakers" album has been in some shops since the beginning of February.

But I just got hold of a copy, and quite simply it is the best debut album I've ever heard by any band in many a long day.

Not a great deal is known about TP and his band apart from the fact that they are from America. They are also on the forthcoming Nils Lofgren tour as support act.

Mr Lofgren for whom I have much respect is in great danger of being blown off the stage if the Heartbreakers can turn in a live show that's half as good as the album. That's how good they are.

Rock steady

The concert hits Scotland at the end of the month with a show in Edinburgh's Playhouse on May 25 and the Apollo the following night.

Tom and the boys play rock and roll the way it should be interpreted loud when it has to be soft when it needs to be and always with a superb style.

When asked what the Heartbreakers were like Tom said — "Well, you'd probably be upset if one of them took your little sister out."

The album hasn't been as turntable for the best part of the last week.

If forced to pick the best tracks I'd go for "Rock On!" and "With You" — "Anything That's Rock 'N' Roll" and "Strangered In The Night."

Jumpin' Judas

Tonight rock band Judas Priest are in town for a gig at Glasgow University Union.

The band are working hard to promote their latest album "Sin After Sin," and their new single "Diamonds and Rust."

Judas Priest are no newcomers to the business and they have built up a sizeable reputation for being a good live band.

The line up is Glenn Tipton, Robert Halford, K. K. Downing, and Ian Hill.
