

NEXT STOP: ADVENTURE

THE Travelling Wilburys (left) are going places. Roy Orbison has already gone to the happy strumming grounds in the sky. But the living Wilburys — Jeff Lynne, Tom Petty, Bob Dylan and George Harrison — have decided to head for movieland.

Not content with a mere video to promote their debut album, Harrison has pulled out his director's chair at his own Handmade Films.

He is all ready to start work on the Wilburys' film — an adventure flick. But what adventures can a bunch of ageing rockers get up to?
