Petty, Cliff honor past while forging own paths

Tom Petty and Jimmy Cliff, a pair of singers who honor tradition while distinctly going their own way, will sing in Milwaukee this weekend.

Petty and the Heartbreakers will perform at 8 p.m. Saturday at the Marcus Amphitheater. Tickets are $22.50 and $29.50, plus service charges.

Listeners who heard Petty's "American Giri" from his 1976 debut album might have sworn it was Roger McGuinn of The Byrds. Petty's sound owes a lot, including occasional use of 12-string guitar, to The Byrds, and he honored McGuinn by co-writing "King of the Hill" for the Byrdman's recent "Back From Rio" album.

In addition to echoing McGuinn, Petty plays with a snarling emotional intensity that's all his own.

After years of recording hardedged records with the Heartbreakers, though, he lightened up and cut the solo CD "Full Moon Fever" (1989), which featured the hits "Free Fallin'," "Running Down a Dream" and "I Won't Back Down." The new Petty and the Heartbreakers album is "Into the Great Wide Open" (MCA).

Petty is a charter member of the Traveling Wilburys, whose first album also featured George Harrison, Jeff Lynne, Bob Dylan and the late Roy Orbison. Petty co-wrote "You Got It," Orbison's posthumous solo hit. He also was deeply involved in the production of late rocker Del Shannon's final album, which is slated to be released on Petty's own Gone Gator Records.

Heartbreakers bassist Howle Epstein is a Milwaukee native.

Jamaican singer Jimmy Cliff blends the reggae rhythms of his homeland with a pure voice deeply influenced by classic American R&B singers.

He'll play a 7:30 p.m. concert Sunday at the Central Park President's Room, 2401 W. Wisconsin Ave. Tickets are $16 in advance at Ticketmaster outlets and Shank Hall, $19 the day of the show. People will be able to dance at the show.

After a long apprenticeship recording and performing in Jamaica, Britain and Brazil, Cliff released the "Wonderful World, Beautiful People" album in 1969. It's a masterpiece that's still vibrant today. It includes the sunny title track; "Many Rivers to Cross," an emotional ballad that's been recorded by many other singers; and "Vietnam," which Bob Dylan once called the greatest protest song ever written.

Cliff also starred as the outlaw Ivan in the film "The Harder They Come," contributing the title track and the uplifting "You Can Get It If You Really Want It."

Bruce Springsteen added more luster to Cliff's reputation by recording the Jamaican singer's "Trapped" for the "We Are the World" album.

Survive Alive gig

Country singers Juice Newton and Clinton Gregory will perform Sunday during Bruce Russell's Music Fest V, a benefit for the Milwaukee Fire Department's Survive Alive House, which teaches fire safety for children.

Music will begin at 1:30 p.m. at Buzdum's, 8082 N. 76th St. Admission will be $2.

Newton's hits include "Queen of Hearts" and "Angel of the Morning." Singer-fiddler Gregory's songs include "(If It Weren't for Country Music) I'd Go Crazy."

On the outdoor stage, the schedule is: Golden Nugget Band, 2 p.m.; Bruce Russell and Joy McKay, 3:30 p.m.; Jong-A-Moi (Cajun music), 5 p.m.; Clinton Gregory, 6:30 p.m.; and Juice Newton, 8 p.m.

Inside Buzdum's, the scheduled performers are Bobby Nelson, 1:30 p.m.; Les Martin, 3 p.m.; Cherokees, 4:30 p.m.; and Les Martin, 9:30 p.m.

Benefit sock hop

Dr. Sax and the Maniacs, a seven-member group that plays classic rock, will perform during a sock hop benefit for the Milwaukee's Women's Refuge, a shelter for battered women and children.

The sock hop will begin at 7 p.m. Friday at the Hart Park pavilion in Wauwatosa. The park can be entered from N. 72nd and W. State St. by crossing over the railroad tracks.

Admission will be $15. $10 of that fee will go directly to the shelter.
